

Graduate Information

Join us at Acadia University to pursue a graduate degree in an environment built on research, community, and close cooperation between faculty and students. As a small university, we can provide you with an experience that you won't find in a large institution or research university. The small size of our programs means you'll form real bonds with your professors and your fellow students. Your thesis supervisors will be accessible and attentive to your needs.

Graduate coordinator

Dr. Elhadi Shakshuki

Masters Program

- Guide Before You Apply
- Information
- Co-op for grad students
- Graduate FAQ

Research

- List of Faculty
- Research Groups