Computer Science Co-op Presentations

Did you know Acadia's Jodrey School of Computer Science Co-op Program has successfully partnered with industry since 1982?

This Friday, four students will be giving short presentations that provide an overview of their co-op work term and connect their work experience with their academic studies.

All are welcome to attend, lend their support, and learn more about co-op opportunities firsthand. Refreshments will be served!

Friday January 25, 2019
