Research and Analytics Careers at the Canada Revenue Agency

Raelee Rath, Canada Revenue Agency, Atlantic Region

The Canada Revenue Agency is ranked as one of Canada's Top 100 Employers. At the CRA, you can benefit from challenging work as well as opportunities for advancement and career development. We are always looking for talented individuals interested in a career opportunity and challenge.

This talk will give an overview of the CRA and the potential career opportunities for Mathematics, Statistics, and Computer Science students, specifically. It will outline a typical day of a CRA Research Analyst, the statistical techniques and tools used, as well as typical research positions in the Agency. We welcome you to come learn about research at the CRA and potential career paths and opportunities.
